AUTO IS DASHED DOWN 8 FEET

Coshocton Men Get Broken Arms and Other Hurts in Sunday Accident.

R. N. Ross suffered a broken left arm, and C. W. Knoff painful bruises Sunday at 12:30 when the automobile in which they were returning home from Otsego, left the road near the Nole farm between Coshocton and Otsego and plunged over an eight foot embankment.

A front spring broke throwing the car to one side and making it unmanageable.

Mr. Ross and Mr. Knoff had gone to Otsego early in the morning and were returning. Near the Nole farm the autoists encountered a small bridge over a little stream. At the end of the bridge lay a plank which had been laid over the main floor of the bridge to cover a hole. When the machine struck this plank one of the front springs, which was weak, snapped off letting the bed of the machine down on the front axle making the car unmanageable.

Plunged Over.
After crossing the bridge the car headed directly for the embankment and before either men had time to jump they were lying in the ditch.

When the car struck the ground Mr. Ross was thrown out with force and he struck a tree growing near, and broke his left arm just above the elbow. Mr. Ross did not know that he had been hurt for several minutes afterward and assisted in getting the car back onto the road.

Was On Visit Here.
A physician attended Mr. Ross Sunday afternoon and Monday he was resting easily. Mr. Ross lives in Muskingum county and only came to Coshocton a few days ago to visit his daughter, Mrs. Knoff. Mr. Knoff was only slightly injured.

Veterans Rally to Old Flag

Grand Army Encampment Opens With Notable Speeches.

[Associated Dailies Telegram]
Atlantic City, Sept. 19.—If present plans are carried out, the forty-fourth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, which began its sessions today, may be the last. The commander-in-chief, General Samuel Van Zant, declared that he hoped to attend a great national encampment next year when survivors of the civil war, whether they be of Lee's or Grant's, Longstreet's or Sherman's army should rally around one great campfire and hold forth as brothers and Americans in peace and harmony.

Hardly had the applause following these words died than a Confederate soldier, General Hillary A. Herbert, formerly secretary of the navy in the Cleveland cabinet and during the war a member of the staff of General Robert E. Lee, arose and declared that the words of the commander-in-chief sounded the advent of an era of good feeling never before equalled. As a climax to his address he grasped the stars and stripes and said that under that banner he wanted to see the heroes of the north and of the south unite. He extended his hand to General Van Zant and declared that he and many of his brothers in the south would work for the great reunion of the blue and the gray. There are about 75,000 veterans here. All the famous war songs and battle yells are being rehearsed. The women of the G. A. R. are holding meetings and today gave General Van Zant a reception at Haddon hall.

Dr. Ruttter, the Columbus Alienist, Ends Life in Cleveland.

[Associated Dailies Telegram]
Columbus, O., Sept. 19.—With the announcement, "I have begun to commit suicide," Dr. Henry Chapman Ruttter, noted alienist, whose home is in this city, walked into the lobby of the Gilsey hotel, Cleveland, where he had been visiting, and within a few minutes was dead at the Lakeside hospital. The examination made by Coroner Boesser failed to reveal the nature of the poison which Dr. Ruttter, had taken. It was said that Dr. Ruttter was suffering from an incurable disease, the tortures of which were, at times, more than he could bear.

Dr. Ruttter was superintendent of the Athens hospital for two terms, 1875-8, and also in 1878-81. Leaving Athens he became superintendent of the Columbus Hospital for the Insane. Everyone Rubbered; Balloons

Gag Bags Floated Over Coshocton Sunday and Landed Near Pittsburg.

Eight of the thirteen balloons which entered in the free-for-all race that left Indianapolis Saturday evening at 3 o'clock were seen to pass over this city Sunday morning between the hours of 6:30 and 8:00 o'clock and were observed by many of the residents in the southern section of this city, none of them coming close enough to the earth so that the name of the balloon could be observed by the spectator.

James Lapp, of Willis Creek, stated that one of the balloons came close enough so that he could observe the name of "Million Population Club," St. Louis, but the passengers in it could not be seen. The balloons have traveled the distance of 300 miles since they left the city of Indianapolis Saturday.

Pittsburg, Sept. 19. — Three of the balloons which started from Indianapolis in the contest for the national aerial contest passed over Pittsburg, heading for the Allegheny mountains. After reaching McKeesport they ran into an aerial eddy, formed by wind currents, coming down the Youghiogony valley and meeting a current from the Monongahela valley. The balloons went round and round in the invisible whirlpool for a long time. The pilots shot their gasbags straight up until out of the eddy and all proceeded on their way toward the east. There was a time when the couples in each balloon were probably able to converse with each other from basket to basket. Each balloon was too high up to identify even with powerful glasses.

The Topeka alighted on the Rhybus farm near Washington, Pa., about 30 miles from Pittsburg.

The Million Population landed near Stafford City, Pa., and the Drifter at Uniontown, W. Va.

Balloons Pass Over Ohio.

Columbus, O., Sept. 19.—Two balloons, participants in the Indianapolis balloon race, passed over this city. Their names were not ascertained. A report from Athens, O., says three passed over that city and one of them, the Miss Sophia, piloted by William Asman of St. Louis, with J. G. McCullough as aid, dropped a message near Carpenter, O., stating that the crew had 24 bags of ballast left and that it had rained on them all night. The balloon then was traveling southeast. The Miss Sophia passed over Pomeroy, O., and another balloon was seen going eastward, but its name was not learned.

COSHOCTON DRIVER DISPLAYS QUICK WIT

Four Year Old Girl Darts Across Track at Mt. Vernon and Knocked Unconscious By Prancing Horses—Harry Wade's Quick Skill.

Harry Wade, of Coshocton, was driving John Wagers' Adrian W. at Mt. Vernon Friday in the 2:20 pace during which a four-year-old girl, who started across the track in front of the horses was knocked down and run over by one of the sulky wheels but fortunately not fatally hurt.

The horses had scored several times and it was during one of these efforts to get the word that the little girl, Louise Salsbury, appeared on the track. The brace rod of the first sulky struck her on the right side, hurling her to the ground several feet away. She struck the track directly in front of the second horse, which with a sagacious animal instinct, made an effort to evade stepping on her and succeeded. The driver of the second sulky, when he discovered the child on the track and knew that his wheel must pass over her body, threw all his weight on the other side of the cart almost lifting that side, making the pressure very light and as a result no injury was inflicted by the wheel. Physicians hastily examined the child and she soon regained consciousness. The was taken in an auto to a doctor's office. No bones were broken but it was thought Friday evening that there were probably internal injuries as a quantity of blood was vomited by the child. The child seemed on the road to recovery Saturday.

Charles Salsbury, the father of the child, stated that during the races Louise complained of being sick at her stomach and that he had given her some money to buy some chewing gum, thinking that it might serve to quiet her. He told her that after the race was over they would go over to the dairy kitchen and get the chewing gum and the child seemed to be contented with the plan. The father released his hold on her arm in order to get a good view of the starters when the little girl suddenly made a dash across the track.

Adrian W., driven by Harry Wade, got second money in the race, Rocky H winning first. Adrian W. came in first in the third heat, and got two seconds and one third. The best time was 2:15.3-4 in the first heat.

COURT HELD IN HOTEL ROOM UP AT BALTIC

A remarkable session of probate court was held in the office of the Zeigler hotel at Baltic, Saturday morning, when Probate Judge Barnhill presided in the settlement of the guardianship of Walter L. Rennecker, a former Baltic youth. All the parties interested in the case, including the attorneys, were attending the home coming celebration.

Mr. Rennecker and his father, A. W. Rennecker, went to New Philadelphia Friday afternoon from Steubenville, Wayne county to settle the guardianship of the young man, who Saturday reached his majority. They arrived too late, however, to settle the case that afternoon, as the probate office closes at 4:30.

Father and son were anxious to go to Baltic, Friday evening, to attend the home coming celebration, Saturday. It developed later that Judge Barnhill had also gone to Baltic, so at the suggestion of Attorney W. V. Wright counsel for Mr. Rennecker, it was decided to carry the case to Baltic.

The session, Saturday morning, lasted half an hour. The guardianship was satisfactorily settled.

Welsh Miners Strike

Twelve Thousand Men May Force Lockout of Two Hundred Thousand.

[Associated Press Telegram]
London, Sept. 19.—The Cambrian colliery men at a mass meeting decided to strike. Twelve thousand men quit work today. The result will probably be that the Welsh coal mine owners will lock out 200,000 Welsh miners. The miners struck without giving the legal notice, which will render them unable to draw strike pay from their union. The strike is in defiance of a decision reached at a conference at Cardiff, which was attended by delegates representing the entire Welsh coalfield.

The delegates favored a general stoppage of work in sympathy with the men of the Cambrian field, but the leaders urged the gravity of such a step. Then the delegates agreed that a ballot of all the men should be taken before a strike notice was served on the owners. The Cambrian miners refused to wait until the ballot could be taken.

Colonial theatre opens tonight.

ZANESVILLE SPEAKEASIES ARE RAIDED

Zanesville, Sept. 19.—Unheralded and unadvised Chief of Police John Arter swooped down upon eleven speakeasies Saturday night and gently informed the proprietors to appear in police court Monday morning to answer to the charge of selling liquor contrary to the Rose law. It was quite a surprise party to the "hosts" when the uninvited guest made his appearance. With the statement "That all who play in the band wlt. have to ride on the band wagon," Chief Arter filed affidavits against the eleven proprietors. No evidence in the shape of liquor was secured but it was generally believed around police court that all the men would plead guilty. When the places were visited Saturday night by the chief, they seemed to be doing a thriving business. They listened with deference to the orders of the chief but kept on "blin' em" up for the boys.

A Foundation For That Fortune You Dreamed Of

The Coshocton Age is Inviting You to Help Yourself to One of These Prizes

READ THE LIST PUBLISHED TODAY

A Careful Study of This List Will Encourage You in Your Campaign

Of all the candidates who have entered The Age great voting contest not one who has given it a fair trial has complained to us that she has found it difficult to secure subscriptions to this paper. On the contrary, they seem never to tire of telling us what an extremely pleasant occupation they have found it. Neither do we tire listening to these accounts. You will be telling us the same story within a day or so after you have entered the race. We are waiting here to listen to your story. When you have finished be prepared to hear us say: "We told you so."

On the other hand we regret to say that there are those who do not seem to be imbued with the proper amount of enthusiasm. To those are in this class we beg the privilege of offering a bit of advice. Don't let slip any opportunity of advertising the fact among your friends that you are in this race—and in to win. They're only waiting to be convinced of this, and when they are they will rally to your colors with a celerity that will surprise you. Depend more upon yourself. Put your soul into the work. Have confidence in yourself. A good start, and the race is half over, with you in the lead. You will be more than satisfied with yourself when you have given it a trial. And right here while we think of it:

There is another item we think it wise to mention. Every candidate should have a "receipt book." These are to be had at the Contest Department and may be carried in pocket or purse. When you secure a subscription you should collect the money for it and give the subscriber a receipt from the book, signing your name to the receipt. When the money thus secured is brought or sent to the Contest Department of The Age, the votes will be issued in favor of yourself or for any candidate for whom you may be working. These ballots may be polled at once or may be held back and cast at the discretion of the contestant. Don't fail to ask for one or more of these receipt books. They have been printed for your special use.

You can tell where you stand with the other candidates in this race by the list published today. The number of votes accorded to the leaders should not suffice to frighten you out of the race. We think that study of this list will make a candidate of you, unless, indeed, you are already one.

The $350.00 Compton-Price Pianos

The Compton-Price pianos are so well known to the music loving public that they need no introduction here. The strength of these pianos lie in their artistic merits—merits which have been recognized by the greatest musicians. The high grade pianos offered in this contest are valued at $350 each. They were purchased for this contest from the Price-Compton Piano Co., Coshocton, Ohio. In buying a piano—or winning one—you don't want a poor one. We knew you didn't and so we chose the Price-Compton piano for you. Perhaps a piano is just the thing you want. If so, then we'll make you happy. You are invited by The Age scholarships are considered by many to be the most valuable of the prizes offered and they will no doubt be widely contested for.

The Gold Watches

The five Waltham or Elgin gold watches which are offered as fourth district prizes are very handsome and come in a variety of designs, engraved or plain, as preferred. They were purchased from Coshocton dealers and will be on display during the contest.

Who May Enter the Contest

Any young lady (either married or single) residing in Coshocton or vicinity (except, of course, employees of The Age) may enter this contest. They do not have to be subscribers to The Age in order to enter; all that is necessary is to send in their name or names and addresses and the names of at least two parties who have known them for at least three months. The rewards will be distributed as shown in another section of this announcement. Votes may be clipped from the paper or secured on subscription. The nomination blank will count for 5,000 votes for the lady nominated. The votes will appear in The Age after the opening date of the contest are good for ten votes if voted within one week from the time published. Those secured on subscriptions are given in proportion to the length of subscription, as shown in another section of this announcement. Parties living in one district are not confined to voting for candidates in their own district, but may vote for candidates in any district of the territory of the contest. Candidates and their friends may secure subscriptions anywhere and votes will be allowed on all subscriptions as shown in another section of this announcement.

The judges will be selected by the contestants and The Age. The contest manager reserves the right to reject any nominations. Every candidate must be regularly nominated in writing on the blank printed in this paper or a similar blank furnished by The Age. Candidates must reside in the district or territory from which nominated. No candidate will be allowed to transfer votes to another after receiving them for themselves. Ballots sent in for names not properly nominated will be destroyed uncounted. No employee or a member of an employee's family of The Age can be a contestant in this contest. Any question that may arise will be determined by the contest manager of The Age and his decision will be final and conclusive.

No protest as to the eligibility of any candidate will be considered if the votes have been cast for said candidate for a period of ten days.

To secure the special vote ballots, all money must be sent direct to The Age Contest Department by the contestants or their friends, as votes can only be issued at The Age office.

Any person wishing to withdraw from the contest must write us personally, as no telephone messages will be considered.

In accepting nominations all candidates must accept and agree to abide by all the above conditions.

How the Prizes Will Be Awarded
1 The five Compton-Price pianos will be awarded as follows: The contestant residing in each of the five districts securing the largest number of votes, will receive a $350 Price-Compton piano.
2 The contestant securing the second largest number of votes in each of the five districts will receive a beautiful diamond ring.
3 The contestant securing the third largest number of votes in each of the five districts will receive a scholarship in West Lafayette college.
4 The contestant securing the fourth largest number of votes in each of the five districts will receive a handsome gold watch.

Remember each of these five districts receives four prizes, a piano, a diamond ring, a scholarship and a gold watch, regardless of the votes in any other district.

Candidates compete only with those in their own district for the prizes and every contestant in every district has an opportunity to secure a high grade piano or one of the other valuable prizes.

In case of a tie for any of the prizes offered in this contest, the value of the prize or prizes tied for will be equally divided between the candidates who tie for same.

With every subscription to The Age (when it is asked for) is given a coupon good for a certain number of votes, according to the length of the subscription. This is explained below. These coupons may be held as long as desired, and voted at any time up to the last day of the contest. In fact, it is well to hold back a large percent of your vote coupons, as then no one knows how many votes you have and you are less likely to have someone who knows how you stand step in at the last and by paying for a great many subscriptions secure the prize you desire. If you hold a part of your votes back no one knows how many they need to win and will not take chances on spending money for nothing.

The ballots printed in The Age are good for ten votes, if voted one week from the time printed. The date on which they expire is on the bottom of each ballot, and if the time is expired the ballot will not be counted. A nomination blank counts for 5,000 votes.

Votes cannot be bought; they must be clipped from the paper or secured on subscriptions.

Votes secured by one contestant cannot be transferred to another.

FORNEY HIT ON HEAD BY HEAVY TIMBER

Jesse Forney, a well known farmer of the Bird's Run vicinity, was painfully injured when a heavy timber fell upon his head while repairing a building on his farm. He was knocked unconscious by the force of the blow and a gash three inches long cut in his scalp. Dr. Moorehead was called and found it necessary to take several stitches to close the wound.

Lanier of the Cavalry

Or A Week's Arrest

By General Charles King.

Copyright, 1909, by J. B. Lippincott Company.

And the story Snaffle told Button before Foster could reach him was to the effect that Foster ought to be ashamed of himself for abusing Fitzroy for taking the sleigh in hopes of having a warm nest to fetch the poor girl home in as soon as he'd found her. "Sure, did Mr. Ennis expect her to ride back on his cattle on so bitter a night? Faith, Fitzroy was worth the whole pack of 'em put together if they'd only let him alone."

And that, at 9 o'clock, when Ennis was sent for, was the colonel's way of looking at it. Moreover, he had a rasp up his sleeve for our rascally young friend on half a dozen other counts.

"In point of fact, Mr. Ennis, that girl has simply fooled the whole party and is probably laughing at all of you. A girl that will run away without a word or line to her father and marry an out and out adventurer, a mere nobody, has neither heart nor head anyhow. And now you've interfered in a matter of discipline just as Mr. Lanier did, and I gave you credit for better sense. You know I had ordered that fellow's arrest."

And so all Fort Cushing seemed in turmoil and trouble as the sun of the 23d went out and "Black Bill" came in, yet that sun must have been potent, for Mrs. Stannard's face as she came in she sped after a long talk with Mrs. Osborn was radiant with sunny smiles. "You're not to know anything yet, Luce, at least until you get it from Dr. Mayhew, for you never could keep it, and for a week at least it's got to be kept."

"Well, one thing you can tell," said the major—"that is, if you know—and put a stop to an awful amount of censure that poor girl's getting. Why did she leave no word for her father?"

"Because she expected to be home in two hours." And the reader can judge just how full and satisfactory must that answer have been.

Now, whatever Mrs. Osborn had told that so cheerful Mrs. Stannard, it is certain the latter could not contain herself long and that even as the major was summoned toward 9 of the evening to join the solemn convocation of the colonel's (where by this time Button had opened proceedings by giving "Black Bill" the best dinner a frontier larder and cellar afforded) she bustled over to the Sumters', was delightedly welcomed by her friend and neighbor, whose husband, too, had been called to council, and presently these two sages were in confidential chat.

To them presently entered the captain, electric, bustling. He wanted the bundle of latest newspapers. They had not half read them, and Colonel Button was all eagerness to see some articles concerning the campaign about which Riggs had been twitting him, asking him whom he had subsidized at this late hour to rescue his reputation, etc. Riggs had seen three long, well written letters in the great New York Morning Mail, obviously the work of a correspondent on the spot, an eyewitness to the scenes he had described, and these letters refuted the calumnies recently heaped on Button and his comrades—gave him, in fact, high praise for soldiership, bravery, energy, even though the writer owned himself by no means one of the colonel's circle, if, indeed, one of his personal friends and admirers. Only the Sumters at Cushing subscribed for the Morning Mail. It took a search of some minutes before even the first was found. Then Sumter's eyes danced as he read, and Mrs. Sumter exclaimed over another, and for the first time a week sounds of cheer arose in the little home. Presently Mrs. Stannard read aloud a spirited, stirring paragraph, describing a dash led by Lieutenant Lanier, and then Sumter made a swoop for all three papers and said, "The quicker Burton can see these the sooner he'll come to his senses," and, begging pardon for his rudeness, took the papers and his leave and almost collided with Kate.

It must have been nearly an hour later when Sumter came hurriedly in, threw his furs off in the hall and, with troubled face, re-entered the parlor. His wife rose instantly, laid her head upon his arm and asked, "What has happened?"

"A scene the like of which I never thought to hear of in this regiment. We had adjourned to the office. Snaffle had been drinking a bit and got angered and flustered when Riggs cross examined him. One thing led to another, and finally in exasperation he blurted out, 'I'm sick of being called the accuser of Mr. Lanier. Why, I've defended him! I've hidden worse things than ever I told you yet, and now I'll stand it no longer! You twit me with spying and slandering. Then by all that's holy you shall say here and now who's the better man! 'Twas Lieutenant Lanier himself that leaped from the window this night a week ago—the back upper window of Sumter's quarters. That's how his hand was cut and torn, and I've got three men that'll swear to it!'"

He broke off suddenly, for Kate had turned and hung herself from the room and into the arms of Mrs. Stannard.

"Oh, father, father—it was—it was what I heard—when she screamed—and fell!"

"What did you hear?"

"The other voice—his voice. It said plainly: 'Miriam, hush! Don't you know me?'"

CHAPTER VII.

"BOR," said Mr. Ennis, sauntering in to his comrade's bedside the following morning, "I'm instructed to pay you a kiss."

Lanier's bandaged head spun on the pillow. He had but one girl in his mind.

"Wh-who?" he demanded.

Ennis threw his head back and laughed. "Nine times out of ten when a fellow is asked, 'Will you take it now or wait till you get it?' he's wise to take it now. If I'm any judge I should say you'd better wait till you can get it, which may be in less than a week."

"Ennis, if you can quit being an ass long enough to tell me what you mean and where you've been I'll thank you. If you can't I wish you'd get out. Ugash!"

"Well, it probably isn't just the kiss you were thinking of—no more was I when I got it—but, Robert, my son and fellow soldier, it's my recorded conviction that the most enviable member of the regiment this day of our Lord is your twin trooper friend Rawdon. I saw him off on his wedding tour, and he didn't leave on your clothes."

Lanier's head popped up in an instant, the one visible eye all eager interest. "Where were they married? When did they get off? Was Lowndes there?" were the questions that flew from his lips.

"Arena. On No. 6. Don't know," was the categorical answer. "It was don brought the parson out from Omaha, and the Osborns gave her away. Of Lowndes I've seen nothing since the night you staked him at Laramie, and what I've heard of him you refused to listen to. Of that callow specimen of the effete and ultra refined Back Bay district you've long since had my opinion. He's too good and gentle for this western world of ours. Bob, and he and his shuddering kinkfolk suffer too much by contamination!"

"Oh, shut up, dad! His people did wire him that his mother was desperately ill. They merely wanted to get him away from the campaign. He'd been gambling, the posky little fool, with some of the flawlike crowd, was all out of cash and dared not tell his guardian. That's all there was to it. Soon he gets his money he'll square up—thought perhaps he had, since Rawdon had enough to marry on. Lowndes owed him ten times what he owed me, I reckon."

To them, thus engrossed in confidential chat, there suddenly entered the two doctors. "Black Bill," the inspector, had given notice that he must needs have speech with the culprit, if that bandaged, blistered and unprincipled young man were in condition to see him. "Black Bill" and his host had been having a night of it. Button was in high fettle over the amazingly truthful and unlooked for articles in the Mail and as eager to know and reward their author as he had been to apprehend and punish the earlier detractor. Button had begun to "swable," as Bill expressed it, in his spleen against Lanier until so suddenly "braced" by the truculent stand of Captain Snaffle, whose half drunken words the previous night were by this time known all over the post.

PROFIT ONLY FOR PUBLIC

Ladies of M. E. Church Give Strong Lecture Course This Year.

"Can you trust the women?" That question is never asked in connection with the Peoples' Lecture Course, that the Ladies' Aid society of Grace Methodist Episcopal church have been conducting without profit for a number of years. This year the course offered will compare favorably with anything ever given before and it is the opinion of many that nothing heretofore given quite equals it. Here it is in a nut shell: Senator Thomas P. Gore, the blind man eloquent, of Oklahoma, a great National Democrat.

Former Governor Frank J. Hanly, a great National Republican.

The Kellogg-Haines Singing party composed of five voices.

The Evelyn Bargett Concert Company composed of four people, embracing readings, cartoons, futo, violin and piano.

Strickland W. Gillman, the humorist.

Certainly a more varied course could not be selected and any number will be worth the price of the season ticket—one dollar.

Senator Gore's Lecture on "Social Duty" is a discussion of the present day economic problems, showing the spirit to be cultivated and the methods to be adopted which will remove a large part of the social unrest and advocate certain policies which will tend to a more equitable distribution of the growing wealth and other advantage of our civilization and it will be worth going miles and miles to hear; while Governor Hanly in his "Patriotism of Peace" is described by one journal as eloquent, modest, with the simplicity of a child and the fervor of a Hebrew prophet, his coming has done us good, and his going leaves us indebted to him for a new vision of life, political and spiritual.

He has a voice as smooth and penetrating as has Bryan and a delivery as winning as the Nebraska man's. He is as eloquent and more argumentative. He is scholarly, but not pedantic. There is nothing of coarseness in his make-up or illustrations, and he does not weary with repetitions. He made no sensational charges, and he fortified his statements with facts which cannot be disputed. He discusses questions of most momentous importance to the American people at the present time. The ladies of Grace church are sometimes criticized for furnishing so much without profit, but they feel repaid by the consciousness that they are lending to the moral uplift of the city they love so well.

As usually treated, a sprained ankle will disable a man for three or four weeks, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment freely as soon as the injury is received, and observing the directions with each bottle, a cure can be effected in from two to four days. For sale by all dealers.

Unscrupulous dealers, mindful only of their profit and caring nothing for the health of their patrons, are offering for sale low grade mixtures, which they tell you are "as good as" Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

Some go so far as to try to make you believe it is Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. These cheap concoctions are foisted on the people with the intent to deceive.

Made Her Look Twenty Years Younger

READ MRS. HERRICK'S SWORN STATEMENT

STATE OF NEW YORK

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: When I was a girl, I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair which was the envy of my schoolmates, and which attracted the attention and remarks of strangers. As I grew older, my hair commenced to come out, just a little at first, but gradually more and more, and then began to turn gray. I was induced by the many good reports I had heard of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy to try a bottle. My hair was quite thin and gray when I began using Sage and Sulphur, and you can imagine my satisfaction when I found that it was fast coming back to its natural condition, being thicker, darker and more glossy than it had been for a long time. I continued to use Sage and Sulphur, and my hair is now as heavy, dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. It is now four years since I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and my hair is still in splendid condition.

Sworn to before me this 19th day of July, 1910.

REASONER THE MAN.

The selection of Jay Reasoner by the Republican county central committee as the nominee for prosecuting attorney, in place of the late Thomas M. Calhoun, is an excellent one. Mr. Reasoner is a young man possessed of well grounded learning in the law and with force and vigor to make the county an alert and excellent official. His personal popularity will add to the vote he will get, and the voters may rest assured of a progressive and active administration of this important office, if they elect Reasoner.

GET A BIRD MAN.

With all the "bird men" the country is producing, why not have a flight at Coshocton during the county fair? The returns would warrant the expense attached, and as an educational feature it would have great value. A man with a Wright bi-plane to give an exhibition flight or two at the fair, would draw 25,000 people from all over this section of Ohio. The fact that every time balloons go over this county, as they did Sunday, the average man spends several hours sky gazing, merely to catch a sight of them is attest enough of human interest in things aerial if not celestial.

It is our belief that the New York State woodchuck that "holed up" was not trying at all to predict an early winter, but simply knew that the Colonel had swung around the circle and was headed for home.

YOUR BACKACHE WILL YIELD

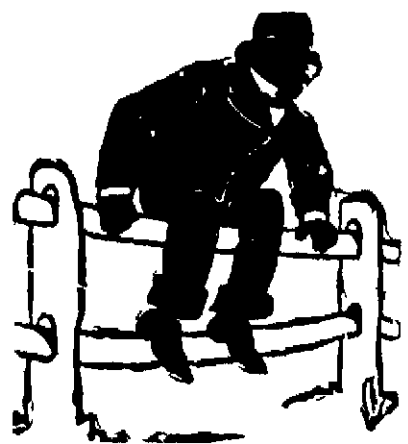

To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bloomdale, Ohio—"I suffered from terrible headaches pains in my back and right side, and was tired all the time and nervous. I could not sleep, and every month I could hardly stand the pain. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to health again and made me feel like a new woman. I hope this letter will induce other women to avail themselves of this valuable medicine."—Mrs. E. M. FREEDMAN, Bloomdale, Ohio.

Backache is a symptom of female weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so safely and surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Cure the cause of these distressing aches and pains and you will become well and strong.

The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has restored health to thousands of women.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for a free trial.

Ostrich Plumes

To the Women of Coshocton and Vicinity

"Take it from me" — the place to buy your genuine ostrich plume is at an "EXCLUSIVE MILLINERY STORE." Who is better suited to cater to the styles and tastes of women in head dress than a woman. We weren't born yesterday — neither have we been in the millinery business for one season only —

We have had years of experience in both buying and selling Millinery and we are perfectly capable of buying Ostrich Plumes for Coshocton or any other city.

The women who have bought our good plumes have been well satisfied and have been enthusiastic in their praise to others, who have also done likewise.

We buy for two stores either one larger than any small department in a department store and we as exclusive milliners are favored by both the wholesale dealer and the manufacturer. We can and do buy cheaper than any one else. But we carry the best.

Beware of the Store that carries Seconds in anything

The manufacturer from whom we buy our best ostrich plumes — the kind you saw in our window some two weeks ago and when we started the first and only exclusive ostrich sale and which are made from the male bird plumage; are dyed by a secret process and we challenge any one to show a better black. THE WEARABLENESS OF OUR LADIES' SUITS

The sort that are DISTINGUISHED by their utmost STYLE SMARTNESS — that are PRACTICAL enough for MOST women to slip into and find them DECIDEDLY BECOMING — that's the problem we have worked out so successfully in assembling these, this new Fall Suit line. A woman can come here for a Suit and be assured that we have the model best suited for HER OWN PARTICULAR STYLE — HER FIGURE and HER PURSE — every day we hear comments about the WEARABLENESS of our Suits and from many women too who heretofore thought it impossible to buy a garment "ready-made." There is unquestioned quality in these new Fall Suits and when you examine carefully the fabrics and workmanship, you'll wonder that so much EXCELLENCE can be had for such MODERATE PRICES.

The WIDE CHOICE RANGE of STYLES and COLORS which we are now showing is, we believe, the best assorted and largest in Coshocton — a point worthy of your careful consideration — for in a line of this kind, where the stock is large, choosing is much better than from smaller and poorly assorted lines. We have ready now a most comprehensive showing of Fall Suits at from $15 to $35 and call your particular attention to the smart styles at

Colonial Theatre Opening

Having been connected with the Electric theatre for four years and having severed my connection with that concern and not wishing to get out of the business entirely I have built a little place and named it The Colonial Theatre. The Colonial theatre will open this evening. Now do not come expecting to see the greatest attraction ever seen for I do not approve of the idea of putting on a large attraction the first three nights and then drop to about half a show afterwards. But we will try and give you your money's worth.

You are bound to get had acts now and then and no one feels worse over the fact than the management. As for advertising I expect the acts to come to see what you have got the first night. If its good you will have no trouble getting a good house the next two nights; if it's bad I do not blame the public for remaining away. Now as there are two or three raudville houses in the city and as we all have large families to provide for I kindly solicit part of your patronage as there is plenty for all.

New Pastor Preaches on a Timely Topic

Makes Many Friends in His Initial Sermon On "Friendship" at U. B. Church.

Rev. Wm. S. Jones, the new pastor of the United Brethren church, delivered a most interesting and helpful sermon to his first Coshocton audience of worshippers Sunday morning using for his theme "Friendship" in which he brought out some very beautiful thoughts.

Rev. Jones is a man of excellent ability as was shown by his sermon Sunday morning. His voice is strong and deep and round so that it reaches every little corner of the church auditorium.

In his sermon Sunday morning he said that friendship is the strong right arm of the church. He said to have friends we must be friendly. Friendship, he said is what makes a fraternal order so strong.

Jesus Christ asks our friendship for him and to reciprocate he says he will guide our footsteps and will be our counselor.

For every thought in his sermon Rev. Jones had a beautiful description adding greatly to the interest of the theme.

BLOOD TROUBLES CONSTITUTIONAL INFECTION

Constitutional Blood Poison is the most insidious of all diseases. It begins in an insignificant manner, usually the appearance of a tiny sore being the only outward evidence of its presence. But down in the blood the treacherous infection is at work, and in a short time its chain of symptoms begin to crop out. The mouth and throat ulcerate, skin eruptions break out, sores and ulcers appear on the body, the glands in the groin swell, and sometimes the hair comes out. Mineral medicines cannot cure Constitutional Blood Poison; they only shut the disease up in the system to smoulder and await an opportunity of breaking out afresh. The only possible way to cure the disease is to REMOVE the germs from the blood. S. S. S. goes into the blood, and while removing the infection makes the blood pure, fresh and healthy. This causes a general upbuilding of the entire system, and when S. S. S. has made a cure there is no return of the hideous symptoms. S. S. S. is made entirely of vegetable matter, containing not the least particle of mineral in any form. It is a perfectly safe medicine and a certain cure for blood poison. We have a Home treatment book which we will be glad to send free to all who write and request it, also any medical advice without charge.

RHEUMATIC POISON
Rheuma Drives it from the System and Cures Rheumatism.
Ever since C. E. Anderson secured the privilege of handling Rheuma in Coshocton, the sales have been very large.

This is due to the fact that Rheuma really does cure Rheumatism, and that it is guaranteed to cure Rheumatism or money back.

It's a quick acting remedy, too. You don't have to wait a long while for results, for Rheuma starts at once to act on the kidneys, liver, bowels, and blood, and before 24 hours the poisonous Uric Acid, which causes Rheumatism, has begun to pass out of the body through the regular channels.

One 30 cent bottle will prove to any Rheumatic sufferer that Rheuma surely will cure Rheumatism.

For quickest relief from acute indigestion, try English Maltine, 25 cents, at C. E. Anderson's. Mailed by Rheuma Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

WHY THEY FAIL
MOST PILE REMEDIES MISS THE CAUSE OF PILES.
Disagreeable treatment with ointments or suppositories usually fails to cure piles and cutting them off won't remove the cause. Such treatment only moderates the outside effects of the disease and fails to remedy the inside cause. The up-to-date doctors now use internal medicine, to free the circulation in the lower bowel, and so remove the disease.

Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, the first and only guaranteed internal cure—in the form of tablets—cures any kind of piles. Sold by C. E. Anderson, Coshocton, Ohio, $1 for large box, Dr. Leonhardt Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y.

Paris and American Headgear for the Coming Season

From Paris comes the announcement that this year there will be two kinds of hats—the large and the small, and for the present, the medium will be laid aside. For dressy wear, the ostrich plume has first place, and the Paradise feather close second place. Much to the relief of the Audubon Society, the death knell of the Aigrette has been sounded. Wings particularly fancy, play a very prominent part in the world of hats. In the small hat, there are many to choose from, some with brims and some without, both smart, jaunty ENGLISH WALKING HATS, rolled up all around or turned up abruptly on the side front. These hats are trimmed with generous bows or resettes of silks or one short plume is arranged to fall from the front to the back.

Then comes the DUTCH TURBAN, which drops very close to the face made of rich velvet, touched with fancy ornaments.

Seasons may come and seasons may go, but the sailor hats like the birds, are always with us. Here it is again with us in the felts, turned up a little all around, dented in the left front with the turn up caught with a cabochon of satin or velvet, a straight band all around the crown, piped with a contrasting color.

OUTER GARMENTS

Exclusive Suits in fancy and plain Mannish Tailored styles, await your inspection. Fall Waists in Silks and Tailored effects, charming DRESS SKIRTS in fine woolens, and voiles, many of the short pleated Dresses in voiles, silks and fine woolens. Charming Coats in all of the latest models.

Dress fabrics of woolen and silks, and trimmings. All the fine things you read about, are here.

Opening Display of New Fall
